My mother and I share the sadness for the loss of Harry and we will always remember him with fondness and love. For my mother, Harry was a good and beloved son in law and for me he was a best brother in law. We offer our sympathies and prayers to Claire, Alia, Carmen, Cody, Kenneth, Layla, Colt, Caryn, Tucker, and to Harry's brothers John and Edward and their families. We stand with you in this testing time and share your pain. We offer our prayers to him, may God accept his soul in heaven. He will be always remembered with love.

We share in your sorrow and sadness for the loss of Harry, and offer our prayers to him. May God accept his spirit in heaven. Our deepest sympathies and support to my sister Claire and to her daughters-our nieces Alia Hyatt, her husband Cody, their children Layla, Colt and Caryn, and to Carmen Murray and her husband Kenneth and their son Tucker, to Harry's brothers John and Edward O'Connor and their families. We will always remember Harry as the good husband, father and grandfather that he was, and to our side of his family he was a beloved brother in law and a friend. May he rest in peace.

Even though I did not know Harry personally, I just want to give my most heartfelt sympathy to all of his family. May you find comfort in your special memories. True, remembering those time may be painful at first, but in time, those memories will help you to heal. So while grief at the loss of your dear Harry is certainly great, the joy you will have at welcoming him back in the resurrection will be so much greater! Yes, there will be a time when you can see your loved ones who have died again. In the Bible, John 5:28 says, "Do not be amazed at this, for the hour is coming in which all those in the memorial tombs will hear his voice and come out." Also, Psalms 37:29 says "The righteous will possess the earth, and they will live forever on it." How comforting to know that Harry is only resting, just sleeping in death, waiting to be resurrected on earth by God, and finally see all those that he loved, again. May you also find comfort in this scripture, God "will swallow up death forever, [He] will wipe away the tears from all faces." (Isaiah 25:8) Can you see with your mind's eye: death, completely gone, living forever on a paradise earth, and never having to live without our loved ones ever again. May our Heavenly Father be with you and your family. With Deepest Sympathy, The Ward Family More comforting scriptures... (Revelation 21:4) (1 Peter 5:7). JW.org comfortfromthewardfamily@gmail.com
