The sudden passing of a good friend and confidant is always most shocking and untimely. I will remember J as I called her, as a person with great zeal for life, always in anticipation of the next great adventure. She carried tremendous pride for her family and especially her sons, their accomplishments and favorably her granddaughter. I will miss the generous fun loving person with an infectious laugh I came to know. My friend J. My thoughts and prayers are extended to Julia's many friends and family members who languish with her passage. May they let the lord help guide them to finding peace and solace in the celebration of her life.
