Lorie Browning Hendry lit a candle in honor of MICHAEL.

He was a special man who loved big. We were together for many years , he was my best friend we shared many memories and he made me a step mom to three of the best accomplishments in my life. We had disagreements of course, but we had some wonderful times we loved fishing and gardening and so many other things. It is so hard to imagine him being gone. He was truly my first love. Though things did not work out for us he was always my family. There are so many memories that you make in 20 plus years... that it's hard to just forget them. So I want I will choose to remember only the good times, and forgive all the bad ones. May you rest in peace mike you will be missed by your family and loved ones.
