She earned a Bachelor's Degree from The University of New York and later, fulfilling a personal goal, earned a Master's Degree in Law from John Marshall Law School, earning the distinction of the oldest graduate in her class at age 60. Marilyn's career spanned various roles, including supporting her husband's construction business and serving as a paralegal for over a decade in downtown Atlanta. Marilyn moved to the Perry, Georgia, area to be near family in 2019. She loved baking cookies for others and herself. She was an experienced seamstress having made her own wedding dress and many costumes for her granddaughter, Chelsea. She had strong feelings for her family, helping whenever needed. She was instrumental in helping her son establish a food pantry at Free Point Church in Perry, where she attended until her health would no longer allow. She will be greatly missed.

Marilyn was preceded in death by her loving husband of 46 years, Robin Franklin Smith; her parents, August Robert Webber and Audrey Irene Cook Webber; and two brothers, Art Webber and Ronnie Webber.
