“ My name is Janet Clark Willis. My memories of your mother always make me happy. I attended Beechwood Academy in Marshalville and was in Tina’s class. My father had retired from USAF and moved our family back home to Macon county. Because I was a spirited young teen, I was enrolled at Beechwood, nearly across the street from our house The Beechwood kids were mostly decent kids who had grown up together and had their own groups. Tina was one of the few girls who welcomed me and we became friends. This was in 1974. We had a lot in common and had a lot of fun times. When Tina met Roy, he was also friendly. When she got pregnant we were all happy and very excited. By this time I was in college at GSW but I would go see her as often as possible. Heather, you were adorable and we fawned over you, the amazing offspring When I had my son in 1980, Tina and Heather would visit , always laughing and talking. She was a great friend After my husband graduated, we moved to Miami and I lost touch with Tina. We never reconnected. I am deeply saddened to discover her passing and wish I had known in time for her funeral. I am sincerely so sorry for your loss. My prayers are with Heather and the rest of your family. “ When I first saw Tina I thought she was stuck up but when I really got to know her she was not at all like I thought we became the best of friends. We would go shopping or picking up rocks one of her favorite things to do we had more laughs together. One of the times we laugh the most is when someone would go to Walmart shopping with us we would be in the store for hours and hours my husband went one time and that was his last. I will miss her and love her I am just sorry I did not tell her before she left this world. RIP my friend

“ Oh Ginger,don't beat yourself up too much about what you should've done because she could've called you just as well...and she should have. But the fact you came and said goodbye makes up for lost time. Just make sure going forward that you always tell the people you love that you love em no matter what y'all may disagree on....or who did what...i learned this too....5yrs we didn't talk and when we made a mends I'm told she has cancer. So I know how you may feel but know it takes two to dance this dance we call life.....and I know she loved you like a sister, she just made some bad choices in life...funny how the one she chose to be with instead wasn't even there today to pay his respects. I tell you one thing, family or not, I'm not sure if I wanted him to be there today. I love you Ginger...i will stay in touch!!!

“ What a beautiful picture of Tina. It is heartbreaking to learn of the loss of such a dear childhood friend. Tina and I rode horses together; played dolls, games and cards; rode bikes up and down Plum Street; spent time with Granny Lavendar; went off to Georgia College together and later drove daily together from Fort Valley to Macon for one semester at Macon Junior College. Tina was a constant in the somewhat turbulent times of the mid to late seventies. I would refer to her as a straight shooter. She would tell you what you needed to know, sometimes not what you wished to hear. She could be counted on always, and trust was at the epicenter of everything she did. When my beloved grandmother died, Tina was at the funeral. She stepped out from where she was seated and embraced me as I came down the aisle behind my grandmother's coffin with tears flowing and a broken heart. A true, childhood friend. A constant in a turbulent time, again there for me. Her passing is difficult, but I know she is rejoicing in Heaven with her deceased husband, Roy, who was the love of her life. He left us too soon, as she has done, too. My deepest sympathy to her family and gratitude to Billy and Sandy for their incredible care and support.

“ Thank you Renee for the little glimpses of the past you had with Momma. I can remember her mentioning your name throughout my life when she would reminisce on her childhood. Integrity and Trustworthiness were two characteristics that were prominent throughout her life and were held in high regard when raising me. Know that Momma fought a long and hard battle against Breast Cancer, a battle that ended peacefully with me laying next to her as she took her last breathe. She has always been my role model as long as I can remember. As a child I would gaze at her in awe thinking “I hope I grow up to be just as strong as she is”. I miss her more than words can express but I am happy she now resides in the arms of our Lord Jesus Christ, healed, happy and loved!

“ My heart was broken when I read about the death of Tina, she was always so sweet and caring. I always looked forward to talking with Tina over the many years I helped her with her taxes and business matters. She was a strong and courageous women, she will truly be missed. My deepest sympathy to her entire family.
